

A Mighty Globe

*A mighty globe
Yet, a vulnerable, fragile ball
Spinning in space and the universe and managing to protect us all*

*Working in concert with the moon;
To hold us on so tight
That we may never fall off!
Our sun, too! providing warmth and natural light!*

*Earth is a perfectly, multi - task globe!
Of oceans, mountains, rivers, and plains.
Of valleys, deserts, forests and crucial minerals.
Variable weather of winds, snows, and rains.*

*Earth supplies us with all that we could ever need.
Yet, all it has ever asked is to keep our globe clean.
To never destroy what was once,
So perfectly pristine.*

*Earth is such a mighty globe;
And fragile, just the same.
We will all practice responsibility
Or we must all share the blame.*

*A little bit of trash
Thrown carelessly away
Will someday spoil a view -
Piling up day by day!*

*Anyway, who could leave their trash behind
While visiting a beach or park?
It was oh so clean when they arrived -
Seems someone hasn't done their part...*

Wherever junk is thrown or left behind: ships at sea, fisherman nets, in lakes or streams. Of hikers, bikers, joggers, loggers, explorers also on a desert floor... Anywhere! out of your own car window... No more!

*Imagine what then happens to the fish! the deer!
any innocent inhabitant, thereof?
Some may try to devour it! Get cut by it! Each will suffer alone...
While the culprits then go on with their lives...
Never knowing the damage they've done.*

*Every human has choices...
To help make their Mighty Globe well and clean.
Even better than we found it? Yes!
Let's work to make Earth the Best it's ever been!*

Written by Patricia Lee Keenan